

The global law firm of Faegre Baker Daniels LLP is actively recruiting an associate to join the firm's Food Litigation and Regulatory practice, which is nationally ranked by Chambers USA. Faegre Baker Daniels is an AmLaw 100 firm with offices located throughout the U.S., plus offices in Asia and the UK. This position is based in our Minneapolis, MN office, and offers you the opportunity to provide regulatory counsel to our food industry clients on matters ranging from nutrition and menu labeling to recalls and FSMA compliance, and to defend, resolve and try product liability, commercial and class action cases involving food contamination, recall business losses and deceptive labeling claims. Our ideal candidate will have 2-4 years of food law experience. Excellent writing skills, attention to detail, and strong academic credentials are required. We are also looking for someone with the ability to work well both independently and collaboratively as part of a team. This position offers competitive compensation and unlimited potential for professional growth.

If you are looking for an opportunity with a growing, collaborative firm, please submit an on-line application including a cover letter, resume, law school transcript, and a writing sample
